

Mr. David H. Carstens is the CEO and Founder of CCG Inc., a U.S. company focused on planning and executing market development, risk assessment, business intelligence, and asset protection solutions.

From 2018-2023, David worked at the U.S. Embassy Bucharest as a U.S. government civilian and served as the Chief of the Military Liaison Office (MLO). He played a key role in coordinating bi-lateral military-to-military and security activities between U.S. Army Europe and Africa and the Romanian Ministry of National Defense.

From 1988-2018, David served in the United States Army. He achieved the rank of Colonel and assumed positions of increasing responsibility over his 30-year career.

Most of David's career was spent as a Military Intelligence Officer. He managed the U.S. Army's first intelligence operations in Kandahar, Afghanistan from 2001-2002. David went on to become the Intelligence Fusion Cell Chief, Combined Forces Land Component Command, Baghdad, Iraq. He is personally recognized in U.S. Army history for intelligence analysis that enabled the rapid and successful seizure of the Iraqi oil infrastructure during Operation Iraqi Freedom.

David also served in Joint assignments at both the National Security Agency (NSA) and Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

David holds a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science from Kent State University, a Master of Arts in National Security and Strategic Studies from the U.S. Naval War College and he completed a U.S. Army War College Fellowship at the Center for Climate Change and National Security in Washington, D.C. David's Fellowship thesis entitled "Building Resiliency into the National Military Strategy" was published as a chapter in a book entitled, Sustainability and National Security (Center for Strategic Leadership, U.S. Army War College, Carlisle, PA, 2012).

David received numerous awards during his military and government civilian careers to include the U.S. Defense Superior Service Medal, U.S Army Legion of Merit (two awards), the U.S Army Bronze Star (two awards), the German Army Cross of Honor in Silver, and most recently, the Romanian Badge of Honor for Defense Intelligence.
